This is the second wildlife case being probed by an STF June 29, it took over the probe of the pangolin scale racket after one Samsuddin Khan was arrested by the forest department with five kg of pargolin scales.

The forest department had selzed paws and seven whiskers from the poachers after their arrest. "We have applied for the remand in the court, which will now decide on the number of days we can 'taker brem' in remank;" 'Koyau said.

They further said Bada-gundu village, known as the haven of professional poach-ers, is not far from the site of the incident. "Some pockets of Deogarh division are highly vulnerable to poaching. But field personnel of the forest teparament are making no efforts to curb it." Mohanty alleged.

The seven elephants electrocuted in Dhenkanal included a tusker, five females and a calf. They had come in contact with a high-tension live wire hanging dangerously low while walking through the forest at night.
